Judge Martin L. Jarvis.

Our new Circuit Judge and who is proving himself an able jurist. Judge Jarvis was born and reared on a farm in Clinton county; is thirty-six years of age and with the exception of Judge Pryor of Louisville, is the youngest Circuit Judge in the State. His early life, after finishing his education, was spent as a teacher and clerk, being admitted to the bar in 1890. In 1894 he was elected County Attorney of his county, twice succeeding himself and which office he held at the time of his nomination for Circuit Judge.

JOHN D. CARROLL.

A CANDIDATE FOR APPELLATE
JUDGE OF THIS DISTRICT.

Hon. John D. Carroll, of New Castle, one of the best known lawyers in the State, has announced as a candidate for Appellate Judge in this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Carroll's friends—especially in the legal profession—have for a long time desired to see him on the bench of the highest court in the State. He has held several offices of trust and honor, and in all of them acquitted himself with credit. When quite a young man he served two terms in the Legislature; was a member of the Constitutional Convention, and one of the three commissioners appointed by the Governor to revise the statute laws of the State to conform to the changes made by the constitution, and was for three years chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. He is the editor of Carroll's Kentucky Codes of Practice, and Carroll's Kentucky Statutes, law books that are in general use and that may be found in the office of every lawyer in the State. A man of high integrity, great industry, with an extensive and accurate knowledge of the law, and in the prime of life, his large circle of friends believe he would make a splendid judge. —[Trimble Democrat.]

After a long fight with disease of the kidneys, Mr. James Waddle, aged 76, died at his home in the South End. He was a much beloved citizen, one of the numerous family of Waddles of the county and city. —Somerset Journal.

Mr. I. C. Rucker, of Paint Lick, whose son, W. B. Rucker, the Queen and Crescent operator, who was murdered at Danville, has offered an additional reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties, making the total reward $1,550.

The selection of Dr. William L. McEwan for President of Central University by the Trustees of that institution on yesterday is considered a wise one. Dr. McEwan fulfills all the requirements of a president, in that he is a comparatively young man, a Southerner, a Kentuckian and a graduate of the University. The most of his life has been passed in the North, his early training was received in the South, which should combine in him the best qualities of both sections, the progressiveness and push of the one and the dignity and sociability of the other. His ability as a thinker and instructor is too well known to need any comment and those acquainted with him say that his personality is all that could be desired. —Danville News.

ADJOINING COUNTIES

Mr. Felix G. Fox, the well known Danville lawyer, died of heart trouble Friday night.

Frank Baker, of Versailles, and Miss Margaret Burnside, of Barbourville, were married last week.

R. C. Ford, of Middleboro, was among those who went to St. Louis as a guest of the Kentucky Legislature.

Rev. R. B. Mahony went up to Mt. Vernon yesterday in the interest of his insurance companies. —Interior Journal.

Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church at Pittsburg, Pa., was elected president of Central University at a meeting of the Board of Trustees at Lexington. He will probably take charge at once.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

A successor to Senator Hanna will be elected by the Ohio Legislature now in session.

Satisfied that his election was secured by fraud, Congressman Shafroth, of Colorado, in the House voluntarily gave it up to Robert W. Bonyne, Republican contestant.

President Roosevelt announced that he would appoint Gen. Earl Duke a Commissioner of the Shiloh National Park to succeed the late Josiah Patterson, of Memphis, Tenn.

C. M. Barnett, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will issue a call this week for a meeting of the committee to name the time and place for the State convention. Either Louisville or Lexington will be chosen for the place of meeting.

At a mass-meeting of the Democrats of Jackson resolutions were adopted protesting against the bill before the Legislature redistricting the Twenty-third judicial district. The resolutions declare the passage of the measure will breed strife and discord among the Democrats of the district, and assert that no such relief is needed in the district.

The House Saturday by a vote of 52 to 28 passed the bill creating a new circuit court district out of the counties of Breathitt, Magoffin, Wolfe and Knott. This is the bill for which Judge D. B. Redwine and Judge James Hargis have been at Frankfort making a fight, and they won a signal victory. The greater part of the opposition came from the Republican side, because the new district will be safely Democratic, while the present Breathitt district is normally Republican. Judge Riddle, the incumbent, is a Democrat and the proposed change puts him in another district from Breathitt. He is a resident of Estill county, and it leaves Estill, Lee, Jackson and Owsley in his district, which will be Republican. The counties of Jackson and Owsley are taken from the district of Judge Faulkner, leaving him Leslie, Clay, Laurel and Knott. This also is Republican. The county of Knott is taken from the district of Judge Kirk, leaving him Pike, Floyd, Johnson and Martin.

Harry (safe plan)—I am going to ask old Crosswood for his daughter's hand over the telephone. Tom—Do you think you'll get it? Harry—Well, I am certain that I won't get the old man's foot. Sold by all druggists.

Russian warships are reported to have sunk a Japanese merchant vessel.

The world contains 99,000 locomotives, of which 56,500 are in Europe.

The President has proclaimed the neutrality of the United States in the Russo-Japanese War.

The Virginia Military Institute of Lexington, Va., will send 280 cadets to the World's Fair.

The Bluegrass Traction Company and the Georgetown and Lexington Traction Company, operating electric lines out of Lexington, have effected a consolidation with a capital stock of $750,000.

Only fire-proof buildings will be allowed in the burned district of Baltimore. Before building begins the crooked and narrow streets will be realigned. Two insurance companies have offered to loan $2,500,000 for rebuilding.

The German Government has issued a proclamation of neutrality in the Russo-Japanese War. It is stated, however, that Germany's sentiment is favorable to the predominance of Russia in China as against that of Japan.

The banks of Baltimore have resumed business. The main streets of the fire district have been cleared and many property owners have signed contracts for rebuilding. The Pope sent a message of sympathy through the apostolic delegate in Washington.

BETTER THAN GOLD.
"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c, with a guaranteed satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

The insurance men who met in Baltimore estimated the loss at $125,000,000, against $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 made by newspapers a short time after the fire. Other conservative estimates make the loss still lower, or not exceeding that of Boston, which was $80,000,000. The loss by the Chicago fire was $196,000,000. Many insurance companies were forced to the wall by the Chicago fire, but such companies are stronger and better managed than those, and not much fear of failures is felt as a result of the Baltimore fire.

In a remote settlement, known as Culverton, beyond the Beech river, in Nelson county, lives Jas. Culver, the oldest man in Kentucky. Culver is one-hundred and eight years old, and comes of a family noted for its longevity and hardiness. For over a century Mr. Culver has dwelt in the same locality, and notwithstanding his great age is in full possession of all his faculties, as well as the most perfect health. His physical strength is something marvelous, and he is able to perform as much work in a day, as a man half his age.

The vault of the Merchants' National Bank at Baltimore was opened and over two million dollars in cash taken out and removed to a place of safety. Securities valued at over five million dollars were also taken from other vaults, together with considerable cash.

HON. D. L. MOORE.

Of Mercer county, is a candidate for Congress in the Eighth district, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Your support is earnestly solicited.

IN AN INTERVIEW in Louisville, Hon. John B. Thompson, of Harrodsburg, said: "As no man who has not twice voted for McKinley is a Democrat, I am no longer a Democrat. Nevertheless, I believe the Kentucky delegation to the next National Democratic Convention will be instructed not to vote for any man as the party's candidate for President who is not willing to say he will if elected, name Mr. Bryan as his Attorney General or as Secretary of the Treasury. For I hold that all the prosperity is due to Mr. Bryan's campaign of 1896, which compelled the Republicans to increase the currency per capita from $18 to $30. The purpose of this proposition to put Mr. Bryan in the cabinet is to test the sincerity of the 'reorganizers' who say they are as much opposed to trusts and the money power as is Mr. Bryan." Maybe if it is not convenient to make Mr. Bryan one of the Cabinet officers, that there will be an opening for him in some of our new and recent acquisitions.

The Hon. Marcus A. Hanna, United States Senator from Ohio, died at 6:40 o'clock Monday evening in his apartments at the Arlington Hotel, Washington, after an illness of two weeks of typhoid fever. During the two days previous life had been kept in Senator Hanna's body only by the use of powerful stimulants. A public funeral service was held in the Senate chamber at noon Wednesday, after which the body was taken to Cleveland for the final services and interment. In the death of Senator Hanna this country loses one of its greatest statesmen and one whose place it will be hard to fill.

A STAFF correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle, writing from Little Rock, on the 14th, has been William J. Bryan and the would-be William J. Hearst, contrasts them as "The one all money" and "The other all morals." Now the question is which is which. The Democratic party, for the present at least, has had enough of Mr. Bryan and to exchange him for Mr. Hearst, would be like trading the devil for the witch.

Dyoll—Can you give me no hope? Eimann—None whatever; I'm going to marry you.

Sallie says: "Pa wears 16 shirts and 17 collars." He's better off than most editors, who sometimes have 5 and sometimes 6.

It may not be the richest gift. But still it is the price mark that "The world keeps thinking of."

"Yes, it was so rough the captain thought he'd leave to." "And what did you do?" "Why, I thought it best to leave, too."

Bacon—To what family of vegetables does the onion belong? Egbert—I don't think it belongs to any family, I think it's a rank outsider.

Ambiguous—"I have a parrot at home that repeats every word I utter," said Jarley.

"What an idiot of a bird!" ejaculated Cynicus.

She—Is she a business woman? He—Yes.

She—What business is she interested in?

He—Everybody's.

She (nervously)—Oh, dear, I'm sure there's a thunderstorm coming up.

He—Good! We needn't worry as long as it doesn't come down.

"Parsifal" has been drawing immense crowds in New York; probably because the people there were curious to see whether it was a new religion or some kind of a cereal food.

The poet says: "Of tongue or pen The saddest words are 'might have been.'" More sad the editor's, we think. Who sticks his pastebush in the ink.

"Pshaw! These matches are no good." "Don't blame them; it is in the air. I've known many a good match spoiled by a trip to the sea shore."

"You may speak," said a fond mother, "about people having strength of mind, but when it comes to strength of don't mind, my son Ernest, surpasses everybody I ever knew."

Confidence: "The way is always difficult before the donning man, But everything is easy for The one who thinks he can Have love and esteem of Miss Nan."

A Rude Awakening.—An old sweetheart always cherishes the illusion that the girl who married the other fellow secretly regrets the step until he calls at her home and finds the baby cutting teeth on his photograph.

Mrs. Joggins—My! They make carwheels out of paper! The ideal Paper carwheels!

Jogging—That's nothing. They have stationary engines, paper factories and paper machines run by these engines.

Miss Lacimrac must be quite seriously ill. She hasn't any appetite at all.

"Oh! a girl isn't always ill when she has no appetite." "But she has no appetite even for ice cream and candy."

"What is the best thing one can take for a cold?" asked the Mount Auburn man.

"Don't know," answered the Norwood philosopher. "But probably the worst thing a man can take is the advice of his friends."

Mrs. Doocery, a remarkable old lady who remembered well the sensation caused by the surrender of Napoleon after Waterloo and many stirring incidents of the Fenian risings, died recently near Thurles, Ireland, aged 103.

Rev. Madison Peters, the Jesuit father of New York, predicts that in 100 years there will be 225,000,000 negroes and only 100,000,000 white men in the South, and asks us what we are going to do about it. We are going to wait and see.

"He has always prided himself on his ability to size up a woman's character and disposition."

"Yes; he only made a mistake once." "When was that?" "Just before he was married."

"Sir," said the angry poet, who had missed another opportunity to break into print, "I will be remembered when you are forgotten."

Oh, very likely," rejoined the man behind the blue pencil. "I always pay cash for my groceries."

"The longer I live," sighed the sage, "and the more I learn the more firmly am I convinced that I know absolutely nothing?"

"I could have told you that twenty five years ago, said his wife, 'but I knew it would be of no use.'"

"Papa," wrote the sweet girl, "I have become infatuated with calisthenics."

"Well, daughter," replied the old man, "if your heart's set on him I haven't a word to say; but I always did hope you'd marry an American."

"John," said Mrs. B. who had recently taken up the health-culture fad, "is it best to lie on the right side or the left side?"

"My dear," replied the legal luminary, "if one is on the right side it isn't usually necessary to lie at all."

"You should strive to appeal to the imagination and the human interest of your pupils," said the principal.

"I do," answered the teacher, "but it is very hard to convince the boys that Hector and Achilles were as great men as Corbett and Jeffries."

Spring Poem:—

You may sing of the birds and the trees,

Or the pleasant northern breeze;

You may sing of the beautiful spring,

I sing not of such subjects as these Because I'm unable to understand. How a spring poet can sing such, When there's snow all over the land.

"My poems," said the poet, "arrived too late for the Christmas magazines." "That's bad!" "Not at all. They've all got firecrackers, skyrockets and general jubilation in 'em, and can easily switch 'em round to the Fourth of July."

Reporter—How were you impressed by the European cities you visited?

Distinguished Traveler—They are marvels of cleanliness, sir. To return to one of our cities after being abroad is like coming back to a hopen.

Reporter—May I ask what hopen you started from?

Naming the Baby.

Of Mabel and Marcia and Mildred and May;

Debated the question of Helen, Donora,

They thought of Marcella, Estella and Bella;

Considered Cecelia, Jeanette and Elaine;

Alicia, Adella, Annetie Arabella And Ethel and Eunice, Hortense and Irene,

One liked Theodora, another Lenora;

Some argued for Edith and some for Elaine;

For Madeline, Adeline, Lilly and Dora.

And then after all they decided on Jane.

The Winchester Granite Brick Co., have begun the erection of their works at Cook's Siding, two miles south of Orlando. Fritz Krueger, the clever contractor of this place, has charge of the construction. This company will put in a $30,000 plant for the manufacture of sand-lime brick by a German process. The manner of making these brick is somewhat different to that of the ordinary clay brick. Nothing is used but sand, lime and water to mix them with, then the mixture is pressed into proper form by hydraulic pressure. The bricks are then put under steam heat for 15 hours and the product is ready for use. This brick has been in use in Germany for ten or twelve years and proved to be the best brick made and to improve with age. The Winchester company acted wisely in coming to Rockcastle to put in their plant because we have mountains of sand and plenty of limestone, coal and wood. It is expected that the sand-lime brick will prove one of Rockcastle's leading industries.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The attorneys for Henry Hellard, who was given 21 years in the pen for the killing of Abe Drew, asked for a new trial, which was overruled and an appeal will be taken to the Court of Appeals. The case against James and Nathan Doan for rape, continued until next court.

Monday the case against A. N. Bentley charged with willful murder, for the killing of B. N. Roller, was called and Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock a jury composed of the following gentlemen was secured: John H. Coffey, F. M. Ponder, W. D. Livesay, F. M. Hurst, W. A. Taylor, Mose McNew, Thos. Mink, R. L. Bray, A. C. Towery, Thomas Taylor, Sr., Geo. Howell and William Brumett.

The attorneys for the defense are C. C. Williams of the local bar, Judge T. Z. Morrow and J. R. Cook of Somerset; for the prosecution, Atty. J. W. Brown, Judge S. D. Lewis and County Attorney L. W. Bethurum of the local bar, Commonwealth's Attorney J. N. Shaip of Williamsburg, Judge James Sims of Bowling Green, and Hon. John Sam Owsley of Stanford.

Q Where were you on the 23rd day of October, 1903? A I was in Livingston.

Q What position did you hold? A I was Master Mechanic.

Q Was there anyone superior to you in your line? A No sir.

Q How long did you hold that position? A About ten years or more.

Q How long have you been in the employ of the railroad? A For eleven years.

Q Did you know B. N. Roller? A I did.

Q Was he an official of the L. & N. Railroad? A He was Master of Trains.

Q No rivalry existed between you and Mr. Roller? A No sir.

Q Now Mr. Bentley you shot Mr. Roller? A Yes sir.

Q On Sunday? A Yes sir.

Q About what time in the day? A About 4 o'clock I think.

Q Did your duties require you to perform labor? A No sir.

Q Overseer only? A Yes sir.

Q Were you on duty this Sunday? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know what you did in the morning of that day? A I did charged my usual duties.

Q Did you eat your dinner at home? A Yes sir.

Q Where were you on that afternoon at 3:30? A At my office.

Q What did you do? A I was going to take a bath, my wife sent my clothes to me in a basket by my son, and I had put them in my office.

Q What was in the basket? A Clean underwear.

Q This was at about 3:30? A About that time.

Q What time did the basket of clothes come to your office? A I think about dinner, or a little before. I can not state that positively.

Q What time did you take possession of the basket? A I expect it was 3:20 or 3:25.

Q Where did you get it? A I went to the depot and to Mr. Roller's office.

Q Where was his office situated? A North-east corner.

Q What did you ask him? A For the key to the bath house.

Q What did he say? A That he did not know where it was.

Q State what objection he made to giving you the key? A He only said he did not know where it was. I then went in and asked Mr. Mullins if he knew where it was and he said he did not know.

Q What did you do? A I went to the bath house.

Q When you got to the bath house, where did you go? A I went in the pump house. I saw Mr. Cook and asked him if he had the key to the bath house, and he said he supposed it was at the depot.

Q Where did you go then? A I went to the bath house. I went to the door first and it was locked and I walked around to the window and tried to raise it but it was fastened, but I got it open.

Q Then you hoisted the window and went in? A Yes sir.

Q Then what did you do next? A I went into the room and turned the water on. It seemed to have been standing, had an iron color. I took out the stopper and let the water out of the tub, then put the stopper back, then went into the other room and prepared to take my bath.

Q You mean there is a dressing room to the bath house? A Yes sir.

Q I went in the bath room and turned the fassit. Just as I was preparing to take my bath Mr. Roller came in.

Q What took place? A Mr. Roller said, what in the hell are you doing? I said I am preparing to take my bath and he said you know G—d—well you have no right here to take a bath. I said that I thought I had a right or I would not be here. I turned and pulled the stopper out, and he began abusing me, he used oaths. I can not recall all he did say. He said I knew that was private property and I said I did not know it. Mr. Roller went in the bath house and I came out and started up toward the coal shoot where Mr. Cook keeps his coal. Mr. Roller came out where Mr. Cook was but I do not know what passed between them. Mr. Roller went back in the bath house, and I went in and told Bro. Cook that I had been treated bad. (Objected to by Piff.)

Q Mr. Bentley go on and state to the jury what occurred next? A I went around to the bath house there was a hatchet on a stool and I took the hatchet and fixed the catch to the window, I put the hatchet down, took up my clothes and went to my office and put my clothes down and then went to the ash pit and walked over by the water tank and down a little this side of the freight depot to the restaurant of Mr. Mullins. I went in the restaurant and got me a cigar and lit it and passed out.

Q How long did you stay? A A very short while.

Q Whom did you see in there? A Sam Ward and John Mullins.

Q From whom did you get the cigar? A From John Mullins.

Q Did you get anything else besides the cigar? A No sir.

Q What did you do next? A I then started to the hotel with a view of going to my place of business, but before I got there I decided, as a man and a Mason, it was my duty to rectify the trouble with Mr. Roller. I started down to the bath house with this view and just as I got a short distance from Mr. Roller (indicating the distance in the room) he came out of the bath house and locked the door. I said Mr. Roller, I have come back to talk with you as a Mason.

Q Are you a Mason? A Yes sir.

Q What degree? A Knights Templar.

Q I said I wanted to talk with you as a Mason. He said you are not worthy to talk as a dog much less a Mason. I said stop Mr. Roller I do not want your blood on my hands. He started toward me with his hand on his right side and I shot as fast as I could without taking sight.

(The answer to the above question was partially illustrated by defendant, which showed Mr. Roller to have his hand in or near his right pocket.)

Q Did he do anything except move toward you? A He wheeled around and started toward me and I shot.

Q Was the pistol double action? A I cocked it and shot it as fast as I could. Mr. Roller turned toward me and said God dam you and I cocked the pistol and shot again and he fell.

Q What was the position of his body relative to you? A Facing me.

Q The shot did not go in the back? A No sir. I shot four times with his face toward me and the last and fifth shot was made just as he turned toward the bath house and he fell on his face.

Q How far was the bath house? A About five steps.

Q In your judgment, when he staggered how many steps was he from you? A About five steps from me, or six or seven by the time the shot was over.

Q How many times in the pistol? A One.

Q What number was the pistol? A No. 4.

Q What was the name of the one loaded? A I turned and came from the bath house and told some men to go down and take care of Mr. Roller; that I had shot him.

Q Who were the men? A Mr. Howell, Mr. Woodall, Mr. Wright etc.

Q And did you have more than one conversation? A No sir. I told them to go and take care of Mr. Roller, that I had shot him.

Q And what did they say? A They didn't seem to realize what I had done and I repeated; I told them the second time that I had shot him.

Q That is your recollection? A I wouldn't say positive, but I think I did.

Q Did you say if he were not dead that he ought to be? A No sir, I do not remember such language.

Q But according to your recollection did you use any such language on that occasion? A I told them to go down there and look after Mr. Roller and they did not seem to understand me.

Q That is the best of your recollection? A I told them the second time to go and look after Mr. Roller.

Q You are giving it as your best recollection? A That is my best recollection.

Q Tell what you then did? A I went around and met Mr. Mullins.

Q Which Mr. Mullins? A W. C. Mullins. I then went on to my office and put down my basket of clothes, and spoke to two or three and came on up to the depot and asked for the town marshal and surrendered.

Q Mr. Bentley, tell the jury whether you were armed down at the bath house? A I was.

Q Where did you have the pistol? A In my right pocket.

Q Where did you get the pistol? A From John Mullins.

Q When did you get it? A On Saturday night.

Q Where did you put it? A In my pocket.

Q Did you wear it in your pocket at home? A Yes sir.

Q What did you do with it that evening? A I had it in my pocket.

Q When you retired at night where did you put it? A I left it in my pocket.

Q Tell the jury whether you were in the habit of carrying a pistol? (Objected to by the Piff.)

Q Then it is a fact that you had the pistol the entire day Sunday? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know a woman by the name of Morris? A Yes sir, she was our cook.

Q How long? A Several months; I don't know exactly.

Q Had you heard anything in reference to her leaving your house and going to Mr. Roller's? A Yes sir.

Q After you heard she was going from your house to Mr. Roller's how long until she left? A In three or four days I think it was she left to go home.

Q How long was she gone from your house until she went to Mr. Roller's? A I think two weeks, perhaps a little longer.

Q Did you say to Carrie Morris one morning, while sitting before the fire in your dining room with no one present but your wife and Miss Morris, that you would kill Mr. Roller if he crossed your path, for you had been tempted to kill him any way? A No sir, I did not.

(The above question was incorrectly taken down by the stenographer therefore we can only give the substance.) Not his language.

Q Why did you fire the pistol on Mr. Roller? A I thought Mr. Roller was going to kill me.

Q How long did you know Mr. Roller? A I was slightly acquainted with him before he was Train-master on the Knoxville division.

Q Taking it for granted that that lady used the word "attempted" for tempted, were you ever tempted to kill Mr. Roller? A No sir.

Q Did you and Mr. Roller ever have any trouble? A Yes, some little trouble over business affairs, but never over private matters.

Q Was there nothing to render malice? A No sir.

Q Will you tell the jury whether or not in lines of duty Mr. Roller was recognized as a good train-master? A He was respected by the railroad men.

Q How were you held? A On the same footing I suppose.

Q As to matters of business and officially what classes of men did Mr. Roller usually come in contact with? A Railroad men I presume.

Q Is Livingston a railroad center? A I presume it is considered so.

Q Tell the jury whether or not the employees of the railroad company there are the usual number of men with families? A About the usual number have families.

Q Will you tell previous to this homicide you were acquainted with the general reputation as to peace and quietude of Mr. Roller? A I was.

Q Tell the jury what it was? A It was bad.

Q Will you tell the jury whether or not you were personally acquainted with the reputation of Mr. Roller? A I was.

Q I will ask you what his character was? (Objected to.)

Q Mr. Bentley will you kindly tell the jury what you know about the bath house? A Mr. Bentley said the bath house was built by the railroad company. He further stated that when the bath tub came that Mr. Roller asked him if he would take the tub to the bath house and he got some men and did so. Mr. Roller went along, and while the tub was being placed in position, he (Bentley) and Mr. Roller were commenting on it, in the conversation Mr. Roller said McKinney can go to hell with his bath tub and we will take our baths when we please. Mr. Bentley said "the bath tub was put in place by me and my men."

(The answer to above question as given by Mr. Bentley being rather lengthy we only give the salient points.)

Q Something was said in regard to the water closet? Was that for the exclusive use of the officials or the public? A Mr. Roller had six or seven skeleton keys and he gave me one and said we could use them when we got ready.

Q How often did you take baths at the bath house referred to? A I took only two I believe. The first time the door was not locked and the second time I went in the window and Mr. Westerfield came in on me.

Q Did he make any objection to your using it? A No sir.

Q When you went in at the window was it fastened? A It was not.

Q This day of homicide was the third time you were there? A That is my recollection.

Q When you left the store of Mullins did you have in your mind any intention of going down there to kill Mr. Roller? A No sir, I did not.

Q What did you know about Mr. Roller in addition to his general reputation for peace and quietude and as to his courage? A I did not think Mr. Roller was afraid of any one.

Q Was he a person of unusual courage? (Objected by Plaintiff.)

Q Tell whether you have any personal knowledge of Mr. Roller as to his character for quietude or the reverse? (Objected.)

Q Do you know the reputation of Mr. Roller on the question as to whether he carried concealed weapons as to what the community said? A Mr. Roller went armed.

Q Do you have any personal knowledge as to whether he carried pistols? A I borrowed a pistol from him twice.

Q Where did he get the pistol when he loaned it to you? A Out of his pocket.

Q Had you passed the corner of the pump house? A Just passed it.

ed it.

Q As he locked the door you had passed the corner of the pump house? A Yes sir.

Q What happened? A I told Mr. Roller I had come back to talk as a Mason.

Q He did not see you until he had locked the door and put the key in his pocket? A He evidently saw me.

Q Where were you when he came out? A I was coming down and he could see me.

Q You were this side of tram way when he came out? A Yes sir.

Q What had he in his left hand? A Under his left arm he had a bundle and in the other hand a key.

Q You are positive he locked the door with his right hand? A He put the key in the pocket with the same hand he locked it with.

Q What happened? A As he turned I said Blue I have come to talk to you as a Mason.

Q You first spoke? A Yes sir.

Q What did he say? A God damn you you would not make a dog much less a Mason.

Q What happened? A He started at me.

Q What happened? A I said, stop Blue, I do not want your blood on my hands. He made a demonstration as if he was going to shoot.

Q Did he have the bundle under his arm? A I think when I fired the first shot both arms went down. When the first shot was fired I think he stepped a step toward me and then his arm fell.

Q When the first was fired did he have the bundle under his arm? A I think so.

Q Then he had the bundle under his arm after the first shot was fired? A—I think he did.

Q How far from you was he when the first shot was fired? A About as far as from me to that gentleman on the jury (from three to five feet).

Q How long had you had your pistol out before you shot? A Just as soon as I followed at him not to come I did not want his blood on my hands I commenced shooting.

Q Give the conversation between you and Mr. Westerfield? (Objected to by Piff.) A Mr. Westerfield sent me word to know if I would come down to his office and I said I would and when I went he asked me if I would tell him about the killing so he could make a report to the Superintendent and I asked him if he wanted the full details and he said he wanted only a synopsis.

Q Did you give him details? A No sir.

(The foregoing is almost a full report, as detailed by Mr. Bentley from the witness stand. A few things of minor importance are not given, because of the lack of space.)

William Miller, probably the most engaged in the United States, was killed by his baggage on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad.

THE GREATEST WONDER.

From All the World Have Come Wonders to Make Man Cry in Amazement When He Visits St. Louis This Year.

Since long before the Christian era, when Antipater of Sidon enumerated seven great works that subsequently became the Seven Wonders of the World, wonders have been accumulating until their number has become not only seven times seven or seventy times seven, but hundreds—yes, thousands—times seven.

Every great modern bridge is a wonder of the world. So is every great power engine, mountain climbing railroad or modern hotel.

And the greatest wonder of all, greater than any of yesterday and today, is the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

This is because it combines the greatest of all the others and because those others were instrumental in bringing it to a state of completeness.

In order that the whole world should participate in this centennial display, the wonders of the steamship, of the locomotive, of the cable, of the land telegraph, of the telephone, were brought into use; then exhibits of these wonders themselves were levied upon to form part of the grand display.

Mention anything that causes man to express amazement, and it will be proved to you that it can be seen in St. Louis this year.

The wireless telegraph? A station has been erected on the Fair grounds. Radiant? Experiments will be conducted with the puzzling mineral in the Chemical Laboratory.

A modern gas engine? The largest in the world will be seen in the Palace of Machinery.

Rifled cannon that throw a shell twenty miles? They will frown on ramparts surrounding the Government building.

The latest improved locomotive? It will swing around and around on a turntable in the center of the Palace of Transportation, steam hissing from its cylinders as it revolves.

A lead pencil the graphite in which is made by the aid of electricity? Its construction will be exemplified in the Electro Chemical Laboratory.

The modern newspaper? You may watch its creation in the Graphic Arts section of the Liberal Arts Palace.

The cotton gin? See it working in the vicinity of Agriculture.

Drigible airships? They will sail over the prescribed course and when not seeking high altitudes will be housed in immense stables.

That wonder which has almost ceased to become a wonder—the modern watch? You will be able to witness its construction and the assembling of its parts.

And upon these wonders are crowded others—wonders that it would require page after page to describe, which it will take week after week to view.

China, a sealed book to the world, has been thrown open by royal decree. For the first time in history secrets which have been preserved from the days of Confucius will be revealed.

Art as it is known in Japan will astonish those who have only been able to gain an inkling of its existence from the word pictures of Loti and other writers.

Brazil shows the punctured rubber tree discharging its valuable sap of commerce and its coffee berry in bloom.

Peru reveals to the world her wealth of copper, cotton and petroleum.

Hawaii sends a glimpse of the Paradise of the Pacific.

Russia awakens interest with industries of a country almost as unknown as China.

Panama, the baby nation, proves how her agriculture can make her prosperous. And Panama, hand in hand with the United States, shows in miniature that wonder, the canal, which will change the course of all ships that ply the seas.

You marvel at the growth of transportation facilities within the last decade: each step will be shown you at St. Louis. You hear of a food that can be compressed into a pill; how it is done will be shown you at St. Louis.

And you can partake of a coffee dinner, from soup to dessert, all of which can be held in a box which would contain twelve two-grain quinine capsules.

Creation of electricity? What wonder would not Franklin express could he see a modern dynamo manufacturing thousands of Jove's thunderbolts every minute, forcing a tiny stream of water to lift great weights! Marvel, then, at the powers of the hydraulic press!

Can man make snow? Look into the great refrigeration plant. Can water be set on fire? It will appear so when the cascades are illuminated by submerged lamps after nightfall.

Planting potatoes is now done by a machine which takes the "earth apple," cuts out the eyes, halves or quarters it, pushes the sections into the soil at equal intervals and covers them, thus tucking away the genius of life as a mother would tuck away a child in bed. This machine will be on exhibition during the summer of 1904.

Flowers will tell the time of day; at least they will appear to do so. Vines nesting on steel pointers, both of which weigh more than a ton, will travel around the circumference of a circle where grow numerals of brilliant foliage.

Near by bloom 20,000 rosebushes imbedded in a six acre plot. Was there ever such a wonderful display?

When you walk through the grounds, you pass over a buried river. At a cost of $140,000 a stream was placed underground before the Exposition buildings could be constructed.

What a wonder is the deck of a modern battleship! It will be seen as prepared for action.

A donkey has been driven into one end of a pipe organ that stands in the Hall of Festivals.

Weeds and wild flowers gathered from all parts of St. Louis county are arranged in a unique display.

From the Philippines an entire village has been transported to the banks of Arrowhead lake, which is an artificial body of water in the western section of the site.

Alaska sends four car loads of totem poles.

The Amazon contributes the beautiful Victoria lilies that grow on its broad, placid waters, and the Nile sends the lotus.

In the air, on the ground, beneath the soil, from the 30th day of April until the 1st day of December will be seen the wonders of the world, all forming the greatest wonder of them all.

CLAUDE H. WETMORE.

The Amazon contributes the beautiful Victoria lilies that grow on its broad, placid waters, and the Nile sends the lotus.

In the air, on the ground, beneath the soil, from the 30th day of April until the 1st day of December will be seen the wonders of the world, all forming the greatest wonder of them all.

COMFORT OF VISITORS TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Excellent Provision Made For Public Convenience in the Grounds and Buildings of the Exposition—Everything Necessary Provided For.

Special attention has been paid by the builders of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to the comfort of those who will attend. It is not an exaggeration to assert that no previous exposition has provided so many public conveniences. First of all, there will be plenty of places where one may sit down and rest after seeing the sights until physical fatigue demands relaxation. And this calls to mind an amusing little story of the Columbian exposition at Chicago.

The little granddaughter of Professor J. M. Greenwood, superintendent of public schools in Kansas City, attended the exposition with relatives, who made it their business to show the child many things that would be educative. From time to time the party found it necessary to sit down and rest. Returning home, the learned grandfather asked the little girl this question: "Well, my dear, from what one thing that you saw at the fair did you derive the greatest benefit?"

"The chairs, grandpa," promptly replied the child.

The chairs will be greatly in evidence at St. Louis. Thousands of comfortable cane bottom chairs and settees for the free use of visitors will be found in the retiring rooms in the great exhibit palaces. But at this Exposition there will be resting places unknown to former fairs, for within the grounds there are many acres of wooded land which are not occupied by buildings. With 1,240 acres at their disposal it has been an easy matter for the builders to create the biggest Exposition ever known and still have many breathing spaces to spare. Under the trees of the forest—a part of Forest Park—the public will find numerous seats, where, beneath the cooling shade, may be enjoyed a reasonable period of rest, so that the visitor, as though sitting in a quiet park, may look beyond the trees to the domes and towers of the Exposition.

In each of the exhibit palaces and the Mississippi river also will be supplied. Those whose zeal for seeing the sights is in excess of their walking or standing powers may hire roller chairs at a small expense, and for traveling greater distances in the grounds the Intramural Railway, with comfortable cars specially constructed for observation purposes, will furnish a mode of conveyance superior to any yet provided at an exposition.

Then there will be the 2,500 Jefferson Guards in uniform, a part of whose business will be to give free information to visitors. These are bright young men, many of whom will have been on duty for months prior to the opening, and they are expected to be walking encyclopedias of Exposition information, able to direct the visitor about the grounds without consulting a guidebook.

An excellent hospital system is being installed, with several branch hospitals, where capable physicians and nurses will be on hand, so that in the event of illness prompt attention and treatment may be had.

COST OF SEEING THE WORLD'S FAIR.

For the Majority of Visitors It Will Be Less Than Railroad Transportation to St. Louis and Return Would Cost in Any Other Year.

From any point within 300 miles of St. Louis a person may travel to the World's Fair this year, view the wonders of the Exposition for three days and expend less money than in any other year he would pay for train fare alone.

This may seem an astonishing statement, but it is a fact.

Railroad men have practically decided that "one fare for the round trip" will be the rate during the seven important months of 1904. Public announcement of this only waits the passage of certain legislation concerning "scalpers" tickets and formal endorsement by the various passenger agents' associations.

With this fact in mind a clear demonstration of the statement in the opening paragraph can be made.

The fare from Chicago is $7.50, or $15 the round trip. So under the new schedule $7.50 will be put down as the railroad fare from that city to St. Louis and return. If you are economical, your per diem expenses in the World's Fair City need not exceed those given in this table:

Breakfast$0.25
Car fare to grounds 30
Admission to grounds 30
Dinner on grounds 30
Car fare downtown 30
Supper 30
Night's lodging 1.00
Total$2.45

Multiply $2.45 by 3, and you have $7.35, the cost for three days' sightseeing on the $7.50 railroad fare from Chicago.

For the same reason open to you the same exhibition palaces, the Philippine Village and many other pleasant places.

Should you desire to remain longer than the three days you can do so without a greater per diem expenditure than given above.

But, supposing that you have plenty of money to spend and desire certain comforts and even luxuries, yet are not

FRENCH LICK and WEST BADEN Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hours ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendid wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and exhilarating casinos one can have all the entertainment and social pleasure possible at the most fashionable resorts.

PALACE OF MACHINERY, WORLD'S FAIR, WHERE THE LARGEST GAS ENGINE IN THE WORLD MAY BE SEEN.

The view shows one end and not quite one-half of the main front of the Machinery building, which is 1,000 by 625 feet in extent, has two towers 255 feet high and cost $400,000.

ducted with the puzzling mineral in the Chemical Laboratory.

A modern gas engine? The largest in the world will be seen in the Palace of Machinery.

Rifled cannon that throw a shell twenty miles? They will frown on ramparts surrounding the Government building.

The latest improved locomotive? It will swing around and around on a turntable in the center of the Palace of Transportation, steam hissing from its cylinders as it revolves.

A lead pencil the graphite in which is made by the aid of electricity? Its construction will be exemplified in the Electro Chemical Laboratory.

The modern newspaper? You may watch its creation in the Graphic Arts section of the Liberal Arts Palace.

The cotton gin? See it working in the vicinity of Agriculture.

Drigible airships? They will sail over the prescribed course and when not seeking high altitudes will be housed in immense stables.

That wonder which has almost ceased to become a wonder—the modern watch? You will be able to witness its construction and the assembling of its parts.

And upon these wonders are crowded others—wonders that it would require page after page to describe, which it will take week after week to view.

China, a sealed book to the world, has been thrown open by royal decree. For the first time in history secrets which have been preserved from the days of Confucius will be revealed.

Art as it is known in Japan will astonish those who have only been able to gain an inkling of its existence from the word pictures of Loti and other writers.

Brazil shows the punctured rubber tree discharging its valuable sap of commerce and its coffee berry in bloom.

Peru reveals to the world her wealth of copper, cotton and petroleum.

Hawaii sends a glimpse of the Paradise of the Pacific.

Russia awakens interest with industries of a country almost as unknown as China.

Panama, the baby nation, proves how her agriculture can make her prosperous. And Panama, hand in hand with the United States, shows in miniature that wonder, the canal, which will change the course of all ships that ply the seas.

You marvel at the growth of transportation facilities within the last decade: each step will be shown you at St. Louis. You hear of a food that can be compressed into a pill; how it is done will be shown you at St. Louis.

And you can partake of a coffee dinner, from soup to dessert, all of which can be held in a box which would contain twelve two-grain quinine capsules.

Creation of electricity? What wonder would not Franklin express could he see a modern dynamo manufacturing thousands of Jove's thunderbolts every minute, forcing a tiny stream of water to lift great weights! Marvel, then, at the powers of the hydraulic press!

Can man make snow? Look into the great refrigeration plant. Can water be set on fire? It will appear so when the cascades are illuminated by submerged lamps after nightfall.

Planting potatoes is now done by a machine which takes the "earth apple," cuts out the eyes, halves or quarters it, pushes the sections into the soil at equal intervals and covers them, thus tucking away the genius of life as a mother would tuck away a child in bed. This machine will be on exhibition during the summer of 1904.

Flowers will tell the time of day; at least they will appear to do so. Vines nesting on steel pointers, both of which weigh more than a ton, will travel around the circumference of a circle where grow numerals of brilliant foliage.

Near by bloom 20,000 rosebushes imbedded in a six acre plot. Was there ever such a wonderful display?
